Lives between Barcelona, Madrid and Rome

A PERSONAL INTRODUCTION

My acting career begins in Madrid at 13, playing the leading role in EL CARTERO DEL REY by Rabindranath Tagore. At 16, I travel to London to pursue dramatic art studies at the Leicester School of Dramatic Art. One year later, in Rome, I continue studying with teachers like Vittorio Gasmann, Federico Fellini and Giancarlo Giannini. I return to Madrid to join the cast of EQUUS by Peter Shaffer, with José Luis López Vázquez. Here, at the home of my friend Lucía Bosé, I meet the manager of popular show woman Raffaella Carrá, who asks me to engage in a new musical project. Thus begins my career as a singer, touring Spain, Latin America and the USA for two decades. Without putting aside my career as a singer, I have worked in television for over two decades, as a presenter, interviewer and talk show host and guest, both publicly and privately. However, I have never neglected my acting career and I have continued to work in film and television whenever an opportunity arose.
